Christian Counseling Service Opened in Smackover

Friday, June 10, 2016

Renee Burton Landreneau, LCSW, has opened a private Christian Counseling Service at 721 Broadway Street in Smackover.

Landreneau did her undergraduate studies at Ouachita Baptist University and her master of social work at the University of Arkansas at Little Rock. She has worked in the areas of abused and neglected children and their families and foster children/families; Arkansas Children's Hospital on the Team for Children at Risk (TCAR); home studies and adoption studies; worked with the elderly on the Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation Unit at Medical Center of South Arkansas; and counseling services at LifeTouch Hospice, with experience in bereavement, grief and loss issues.

Landreneau has also received intensive training in Advanced Cognitive Relational and Cognitive Behavioral Therapies as well as specialized training for the National Council of Certified Dementia Practitioners in Alzheimer's disease and Dementia Care. She is a member of the American Association of Christian Counselors. She can be reached 870-918-2032 for an appointment.

There will be an open house at her office from 2 to 4 p.m. on June 26, 2016.
