

In March 2012 the PM launched a national challenge to fight dementia – an unprecedented programme of action to deliver sustained improvements in health and care, create dementia friendly communities, and boost dementia research.

The new conservative government recognise the necessity to have a continued focus on this challenge and have set clear ambitions for the next 5 years for the UK, through the Dementia 2020 strategy published on 21st February 2015 and through supporting the delivery of NHS England's 5 year forward plan.

Register Here - http://dementia2020.co.uk/index.php?option=com_reg

View Agenda -
<http://dementia2020.co.uk/index.php/dementia-2020-agendaphp/dementia-2020-agenda>

Confirmed Speakers INCLUDE

Professor Alistair Burns CBE
National Clinical Director for Dementia NHS England

Gillian Leng CBE
Director for Health and Social Care National Institute for Health and Care Excellence

George McNamara
Head of Policy and Public Affairs Alzheimer's Society

Martin Rossor
National Director for Dementia Research National Institute for Health Research

Dr Simon Ridley
Head of Research Alzheimer's Research UK

Andrea Sutcliffe
Chief Inspector of Adult Social Care Care Quality Commission

Govconnects Dementia 2020 series of conferences will develop a community of conference delegates online users and wider stakeholders who will seek to ensure that the vision to create a society by 2020 where every person with dementia in every area of the country receives high quality compassionate care from diagnosis through to end of life care.

Through collaboration and connections we will ensure the best services and innovation currently delivered in some parts of the country are delivered everywhere so there is more consistency of access, care and standards and less variation. A society where kindness, care and dignity take precedence over structures or systems.