

This blog is for those who suffer from AD,FTD and forms of dementia, caregivers, friends and medical professionals that want to share their feelings, thoughts, encouragement, vent and open how they cope with this disease. I was diagnosed in 2004 with the early stages, and quite frankly it scared the beeegeebes out of me. 2007 PET SCAN confirmed all. Joe

Welcome to Living With Alzhiemer's

We welcome you to our world where Alheimer's is taking its' toll. But we work together, the entire family, we love and share while the time is still there. Somedays are difficult and scary but the road is filled with Love & Kindness and God's help, who could ask for more. Hope you visit us often and you can email: jolynn1@cox.net, with thoughts, comments, questions and we will offer any help we can.

God Bless You All
