Katera's Kove

Personal Care and Secured Dementia Community

The word "care" can mean many things when it comes to a personal care home and the search for a home that fits our personal definition can be agonizing. If we were to consider only the bare essentials, "care" comes down to providing meals, dispensing medication, changing linens and ensuring safety; state regulators can oversee these areas and guard against potential dangers. However, when it comes to the "care" that we seek for our loved ones, no regulation can guarantee warmth or affection; no inspector can cite a home's "lack of love." Katera's Kove sets itself apart by providing not just the legal requirements of a personal care home, but also the compassion and kindness that really make a difference when it comes to the quality of life of a resident.

Lynn Katekovich, the owner and operator of Katera's Kove, is a registered nurse with 25 years of experience, as well as 30 years of business administration. Lynn specializes in care of patients with dementia and Alzheimer's and is a Certified Dementia Care Practitioner. She is personally invested in the home, not just because she is the owner, but because several of her own loved ones have resided at the Kove. Lynn has experience with physical limitations and understands on a very intuitive level the care a resident needs. She founded Katera's Kove in hopes of providing for others the same quality care she expects for herself and her family. In addition to family who are residents, her brother, children, sister-in-law, and daughter-in-law work in the home as office staff and nurse's aides. Lynn's brother, Jim Maccaglia, is the assistant administrator and is personally involved with each and every resident from admission to discharge. Jim is at Katera's Kove every day from early morning until evening, personally meeting with residents and making arrangements for all of their needs, from doctor's appointments and support plans to recreational activities and outside community involvement. Lynn and her daughter-in-law, Kacey Pournaras, Director of Human Resources, screen every employee before hire and are accessible to support and advise the staff 24 hours a day. Kacey is also a certified CPR, first aid, and medication administration instructor; she personally trains every direct-care staff person.

Karen Knechtel is a licensed practical nurse who oversees the day-to-day management of the facility and the direct-care staff. All staff receive rigorous and continuous training. The staff distribute all medications to the residents to ensure they take the correct amount at the correct time. Assistance is provided for all activities of daily living. On-site physical therapists, massage therapists and visiting nurses are available whenever required by residents, as well as a medical doctor and a psychiatrist who are on call 24 hours a day.

Katera's Kove is divided into six houses; each house is like a family dwelling, with a kitchen and dining room, spacious living rooms with large televisions and cable, and several bedrooms. The bedrooms are fully furnished and each have windows and natural lighting. All meals are prepared by the staff and eaten together at the dinner tables, which brings a family atmosphere to the Kove. Weekly menus are posted with at least two choices for every meal in case a resident does not care for a particular option; the Kove accommodates for all special dietary needs. The entrance and front lawn are surrounded by porches with chairs for the residents, landscaping and a water fountain. In the center of the building is a large courtyard with patio furniture, gardening space and lawn games like horseshoes; the courtyard is fully enclosed and secured so that residents in the secured dementia facility have safe access to outdoor recreation. For indoor entertainment, Katera's Kove has an activities room large enough to host all residents and a movie theater with a DVD projector, comfy chairs and a popcorn machine. The Kove also has a chapel for prayer services and a fully-equipped beauty shop.

The houses in the secured dementia care unit provide all of the activities and recreation opportunities of the personal care houses. Residents can move about the three houses and secured outdoor courtyard with a sense of freedom and independence. Katera's Kove specializes in dementia care training for all direct-care staff and is a member of the Alzheimer's Association.

In addition to the nurses and aides who manage the daily living needs of the residents, Katera's Kove has a resident beautician, activities director, and team of volunteers who keep the residents looking their best and feeling active. Rhonda Braddock, a vibrant and outgoing beautician, gives regular haircuts and perms to all residents, ensuring that they're looking their Sunday best every day of the week. Clyde Greenwood, a former Kove resident and expert painter, comes in daily to give free painting lessons to any resident who wishes to participate. Tammy Mallary, the activities director, meets with every resident each day for exercise, crafts, bingo, sing-alongs and dancing. Additionally, she coordinates dances, birthday parties, the Senior Olympics, luaus, sock hops, carnivals, mall trips and excursions such as Pittsburgh Pirates games, as well as our annual Fourth of July celebration with a spectacular fireworks display. Regular volunteers include musicians and bands, clergy members who provide religious services, and Girl Scouts and church groups who sing and entertain the residents.

The residents at Katera's Kove are energetic and lively; they fill the Kove with fun and laughter. Dorothy and Ethel Mae are the Kove's Laverne and Shirley, whose antics include boy chasing and zingy wisecracks. Betty jumps (literally) at the chance to sing a Johnny Cash song. John is the resident heartthrob, who charms the residents and staff alike. Patty Ruth, the owner's aunt, is the Kove sweetheart and greets nearly everyone with a big hug. Kathy is the Kove caretaker and enjoys pitching in whenever she can. Gwen is the Southern Belle, who recounts stories from her native Louisiana with an enamoring twang. Visitors will be hard-pressed to find a more entertaining bunch of bosom buddies.

Katera's Kove is a personal care home that becomes a second home and family to its residents. The owner, the managers, and all direct-care staff know all of the residents by name, as well as their likes and dislikes, care needs, stories and families. The care provided is warm and friendly, with staff that feel more like close relatives than nurses and aides.

Who designs Beaver County's Infrastructure?

It's easy to take for granted the roads we travel on, bridges we cross, water we drink, trails we ride and lakes we fish. The County's infrastructure is the keystone for sustaining commercial, industrial, residential, recreational and economic development. Here's a profile of one firm, who is proud to be part of Beaver County's success.

Lennon, Smith, Souleret Engineering, Inc. (LSSE), a firm with deep roots in Beaver County has designed many infrastructure improvements necessary to sustain the vitality of Beaver County and its many townships, boroughs and municipal authorities. LSSE's project design teams include graduates of Geneva College and LSSE recently funded an endowment, which was designated to assist students pursuing civil engineering careers at Penn State's Beaver Branch Campus. Recent LSSE project activity in Beaver County includes:

the County's 2010 roadway improvement program; Brady's Run Lake and Stream Improvements; Center Township's Safe Routes to School project; water system improvements in Center Township; water system expansion for Brighton Township Municipal Authority; Beaver County Corporation for Economic Development's Bridgewater Trail North (construction estimated to begin spring 2011) and Bridgewater Crossing Brownfield/Riverfront Redevelopment - Phase II completion; Indoor Recreation Facility and Beaver Pool Feasibility Study; the new 911 Emergency Response Center in Ambridge; National Network of Digital Schools Parking Lot Expansion;

Lincoln Park Performing Arts Cafeteria Building (construction estimated to begin spring 2011); Midland Park Improvements; and numerous local roadway improvement programs.

LSSE currently provides engineering services to over 50 local municipal/governmental entities, 14 of which are located in Beaver County, and numerous private, commercial, institutional and industrial site development clients. Commercial developments throughout the tri-state region include Imperial Land Corporation's Findlay Industrial Park; Chapman Properties Commerce Center; GetGo Fuel Stations; South Side Works in Pittsburgh; North Shore Residence Inn; and FedEx Ground Neville Island Expansion.

Eat'n Park is The Place for Smiles!

Eat'n Park has been a member of the Beaver County community for over 50 years. Although we've been a Western Pennsylvania institution since 1949, we are constantly changing to meet the needs of our guests. For example, have you checked out the back of our menu? It's loaded with information about our menu items that meet almost any dietary need. For example, our lower fat, lower calorie Eat'n Smart entrees are delicious and healthy. We also have selections for those who are watching their cholesterol or their sodium intake, and a celiac-friendly menu.

Stop by and visit us during the Lenten season and you'll find yummy Seafood Specials and a new menu! Choose an old favorite like our Seafood Pasta Bake or try something new like our delectable General Tso's Shrimp. Add our Endless Soup and Salad Bar to your meal, finish it off a slice of our freshly-baked pie and you won't leave hungry!

At Eat'n Park we're passionate about food but we're also dedicated to being a good neighbor. Eat'n Park is a proud supporter of local youth sports teams, school programs, scout troops, Beaver County Big Brothers Big Sisters, and Habitat for Humanity of Beaver County, just to name a few. Whether it's our freshly prepared food, our commitment to the community, our friendly team members, or our famous Smiley Cookies (Free to all children 10 and under!), everyone will find something to love at Eat'n Park.

Chamber Members Visit Harrisburg

Several members of the Chamber visited with our legislative delegation in Harrisburg on February 8th. Meeting in Senator Elder Vogel Jr. (R-47) office, the members discussed several legislative issues regarding the current budgeting process and business regulations with Senator Vogel, along with Representatives Jim Marshall (R-14th), Jim Christiana (R-15th) & Rob Matzie (D-16th).

After meeting privately with the legislative delegation for about an hour, the members were invited into the House of Representatives chamber as guests of Rep. Marshall and were introduced during the opening ceremonies for the day. They then witnessed the House conduct some legislative business during their morning session.

Upon leaving the House, the group walked across the street to meet for lunch with Jim Willsheir and Gene Barr of the Pennsylvania Chamber of Business and Industry to discuss state legislative priorities for 2011.

They had an informative exchange of issues facing business in Beaver County as well as others across the state. After lunch the group returned to the Capitol Building for a guided tour and was joined by Rep. Marshall. They also posed for a photo with the delegation. The photo was taken on the steps of the dome, which is the centerpiece of the building's interior. To say the Capitol building is a priceless architectural and artistic treasure is an understatement. If you have never visited the Capitol, you are missing a truly magnificent building and a historical icon of democracy and freedom.

Many thanks to PGT Trucking for sponsoring the trip and providing transportation. And we appreciate the assistance of Heather Burke and Joe Weidner of Sen. Vogel's staff for helping coordinate the visit.

Look for further trips to Harrisburg, as your Chamber plans on making this a yearly trip, among others.

No Reservation About Preservation

Memorabilia from only fifty years ago (and some from much less) has become not only collectible, but costly and irreplaceable. Think about WWII souvenirs, Superman Comics, and any World Series mementos, Elvis and Marilyn memorabilia and of course, your family's heritage in photos, letters, marriage certificates and so much more. When you have something sentimental you don't know what to do with, treat it in a special manner. If it is worth saving, it certainly is worth preserving and displaying.

We at Courtney-Laughlin Frame Studio & Gallery can help you make these keepsakes last, even if they are not to be framed. We'll give you information and recommendations. We may even get a conservator's opinion, but the decision of how to proceed will be yours. We'll work with you toward a design that not only preserves but enhances your art and reflects your style.

There is one area where we stand firm; we have no reservation about preservation! Anything worth framing is a candidate for preservation framing. We frame so that you can display and enjoy various objects. We want them to last. The following are important principles we practice to meet that goal.

1. Do nothing to alter the original form. This means do not trim, fold, glue or do anything that cannot be undone. The art should remain essentially as the artist created it.
2. Use materials and procedures that will do no damage to the work being framed, will protect the work and are removable or reversible.

3. Provide you with information on how to protect your treasures from potential damage that may be caused by light, heat, moisture and other environmental hazards.

The above are reasonable things to do in most cases; however, there are specific recommendations we will make under certain circumstances and with certain media. Our goal is to keep up with the latest knowledge in the preservation and display of collectibles and artwork so that we can offer our clients the service they deserve. Courtney-Laughlin Frame Studio & Gallery, 531 3rd Street, Beaver

Open: Monday - Friday 10am - 5pm, Saturday 10am - 3pm or by appointment.

Message from the President:

Erica Wachtel
President

March is here and if you missed February at the Beaver County Chamber of Commerce let me catch you up on the progress and headway that we are making - for you and your business, organization and community. We continue to forge ahead with our college student membership program, BC3U. Currently we are holding monthly dinner networking events with our Geneva College Student Members and planning for further events this fall with Geneva Students and other area higher education institutions.

The Beaver County Chamber of Commerce has also been doing a little traveling with some of our fellow members. On February 8th a van embarked upon our first, annual trip to Harrisburg. You can read more about this endeavor inside this issue; but what was a day trip turned out to be a step in becoming a better advocate for our members, the business community and Beaver County as a whole.

Our Spring State-of-the-County Forum took place on Wednesday, February 16th. With all three of our County Commissioners present, they stepped up to the batter's box facing a new format. The Commissioners were given several questions, submitted by Chamber members, before they each gave a five minute summation. Our Legislative Committee and the Chamber office are grateful for the Commissioners' willingness to work with the new format, and we look forward to future Forums with them.

Our Power Lunch Series also launched this past month. On February 24th, Texas Roadhouse in Monaca graciously hosted 35 members and non members of the Beaver County Chamber to network during a fantastic lunch and listen to our first speaker of the year, Mr. Bill Parise (YMCA President/CEO, noted author and agent for professional athletes)... all within one hour. Look inside for details and how to register for the March 17th Power Lunch.

February is notoriously a short month, but sure packed a lot of events into 28 days. The last event that we hosted was held at the Beaver Valley Mall's food court, with food provided by Chick-fil-A. Sponsored by Kateras Kove, our Speed Networking was a huge success with over 45 attendees.

Along with the March 18th Gala preparations in full swing, you can see that we are definitely keeping busy this year and look forward to seeing you take advantage of your Beaver County Chamber Membership and attending one of our upcoming networking or legislative events. If you are not a member and would like more information, please contact our office at 724-775-3944 or by email at info@bcchamber.com.

Sincerely,
Erica Wachtel
President/CEO

First Commonwealth – A Community Banking Story

The story of First Commonwealth is one of a community bank that is growing and thriving in Western and Central Pennsylvania. And according to John Van Jura, office manager at First Commonwealth's Beaver Valley branch, that growth is the direct result of the company's unique approach to responsible community banking. Because, making a difference in people's lives is not typically what a bank strives to do. That's where First Commonwealth is different. They actively embrace a culture focused on helping their clients achieve the American dream . . . and strongly believe in the ethical treatment of those they serve.

Company Profile

A regional bank with locations in the Beaver Valley area, First Commonwealth Bank (FCB) has a total of 115 branch offices located 15 counties throughout Central and Western PA. Significantly sized to deliver all of the services of a large bank, First Commonwealth is also small enough for its clients to enjoy one-on-one, individualized relationships with a talented team of banking professionals. FCB capabilities include a full array of consumer, small business and commercial banking services as well as insurance, investments, trusts and estate planning.

First Commonwealth's Beaver Valley office staff includes (l to r): Steve Katras, customer service rep; Luann Rethage, teller supervisor; Kim Waibel, teller; John Van Jura, office manager; and Becky Dunbaugh, teller.

With solid roots in Central & Western Pennsylvania since 1866, First Commonwealth has grown by staying true to its values. The company believes in building strong communities right where we live and work.

This commitment to the region includes hiring local citizens, building in local communities and using services from business partners right here whenever possible.

John Van Jura leads his entire team at FCB's Beaver Valley office with a simple approach, "We are your banker, and we are also your neighbors – we live here, work here and raise our children here. And we believe in building strong, healthy communities in our own backyard."

First Commonwealth 'Quick Facts':

- In 2008, First Commonwealth did NOT take taxpayer money through the federal government's Troubled Asset Relief Program (TARP)

- FCB has 115 branch offices in 15 Pennsylvania counties and offers over 40,000 free ATMs at all First Commonwealth, Freedom Alliance and Allpoint® networks

- Clients Served: Over 350,000 (as of August 31, 2010)
- Headquarters: Indiana, Pennsylvania

- NYSE Symbol: FCF

Premier Power Solutions Helps Residents Save Up To 19% Off Their Duquesne Light Bills!

Premier Power Solutions, LLC has provided over 6 billion kWh of money saving electricity contracts for business/commercial accounts in PA over the past six years.

Premier Power Solutions, LLC (PPS) is now pleased to offer residential customers in the Duquesne Light (DQE) utility service area a similar product that gives them the ability to save up to 19% off their current utility price to compare. "We are always looking for ways to offer additional value to our customer base, and we feel that we have found one more way to help," said Lee McCracken, President of Premier Power Solutions. "With energy prices at a low point due to the struggling economy, we see this as a great time to fix this rate for a long term."

For a residential customer using 750 kWh per month, the monthly savings under the 24 month fixed price offer is $12.90, ($154.80 per year). We feel that this 24-month offer is the best overall offer, although we are also offering prices for 12 and 18-month terms. The price is fixed and will not change for whatever term you choose. Enrolling in one of these offers will not change the way you get or pay your bills. You will continue to get only one bill from Duquesne Light, it will just be for less money than it is today.

"This residential program was originally targeted to our commercial customers to offer to their employees but is now also open to anyone who has a Residential account in Duquesne Light."

Enrolling in the program is simple, just log onto www.premierpowersolutions.com and click on the "Residential Program Offer." You will be redirected to an enrollment form on the website of the supplier working with PPS to present this offer to you. The pre-populated web code gives you an additional discount off of the regular price offered by the supplier for being part of our Premier Power Solutions buying group.

About Premier Power Solutions: Premier Power Solutions, headquartered in Western Pennsylvania and licensed by the PA Public Utilities Commission is one of the nation's 15 largest electricity-consulting and brokerage firms as measured by KEMA, an independent research firm providing services to the energy industry. At Premier Power, the focus is on the customers and minimizing their cost of energy. Beaver County Early Care & Education Council

The Beaver County Early Care & Education Council (BCECEC) is a group of diverse individuals representing many different programs with one common goal...to support quality early learning experiences for all young children and their families in Beaver County. BCECEC is operationally funded by a grant from the Pennsylvania Office of Child Development and Early Learning to serve as the community engagement group for early childhood education in Beaver County. This grant in the ninth year of funding is administered by HAP Enterprises, Inc.

As the community engagement group for Beaver

County, BCECEC is responsible for

- Facilitating partnerships within the early childhood community.

- Educating local policy makers, business and community leaders, and parents about the benefits of quality early experiences for children beginning at birth and the impact that these experiences can have on school readiness and success.

- Assisting community early childhood programs and school districts in addressing the transition from pre-k to kindergarten for children and families.

- Advocating for improved early childhood policies locally, state wide, and nationally.

- Serving as a community resource for everything early childhood.

BCECEC can provide you with flyers and brochures outlining early childhood resources in Beaver County. If you have an interest in the education of young children join us; we meet monthly, September through May at the American Red Cross building on the second Wednesday of the month from 1:00-3:00. Please contact Cyndi Peterson for additional information at 724-774-5782 or bcearly-care@comcast.net.

Habitat for Humanity of Beaver County

Habitat for Humanity of Beaver County (HHBC) is a non-profit Christian housing ministry whose mission is to work with low to moderate income families and assist them in purchasing a home. Habitat sells homes to our partner families at no profit through a zero interest mortgage. Each family must provide "sweat equity" hours and attend and successfully complete mandatory classes. We are an Equal Housing Opportunity organization.

HHBC holds two Family Selection Orientation and Public Information meetings per year on the 3rd Wednesday in March and the 3rd

Wednesday in September at 6:30pm. Meetings are held at the First United Methodist Church, 339 Jefferson Street, Rochester, PA. The meeting provides family selection criteria and upcoming housing plans for Beaver County.

Our guidelines for obtaining housing are listed on our website www.beavercounty-habitat.org. Applications are only available to those who attend our Family Selection Orientation meetings and must be attended by the person(s) whose name(s) will be listed on the deed.

We reach the goal of our mission through monetary and Shop Local... why?

1. Dollar Power - When you make a purchase from a local business, you're making a great deal more than just a purchase. The power of your dollar is keeping your family, friends or neighbors employed. Your buying power may be keeping the doors of a small business open.

2. Money multiplies - Every $1 you spend in Beaver County means $4 to the local economy. When you buy from a local business, that business can pay the salaries of its employees. The employees, in turn, make local purchases. Do the math and see how your dollar multiplies.

3. Quality of Life - Future economic development of Beaver County depends on your dollars. When you support local businesses, you encourage others to locate their business here. When business developers see a growing community, they see the advantages of bringing new services to the area. The quality of life for both the community and our families will be enhanced.

4. Volume Business - Service-oriented businesses require volume in order to keep their costs down. By supporting local services you will not only save money, but also open up the opportunity for new services to enter the community.

5. Your Reward - When you choose to shop local, you are directly rewarded. The municipality collects the taxes, which are used to provide services.

Your parks, swimming pool, playgrounds, library, senior center, and many other services are paid for by tax dollars.

6. Superb Service - You never know when out-of-town shipments can show up incorrect or damaged. Then to fix the mistake requires time and money you shouldn't of spent. Making local purchases ensures quick and quality service to cover your every need.

7. Save time, money and gas - Another advantage of SHOPPING LOCAL is the convenience. Next time you don't feel like driving 30 minutes or spending more than necessary in gas just to make a purchase, think of what Beaver County has to offer first!
