Hillcrest receives special honors

Three employees of Hillcrest are now Certified Dementia Practitioners (CDP) through the National Council of Certified Dementia Practitioners and the International Council of Certified Dementia Practitioners. Employees pictured above are Alicia Ulmer, from left, TNA in the Special Care Unit; Shane Warner, Restorative Aide in the Therapy Department and Colinda Nappa, Administrator. These three traveled to Lincoln in October for the course and received their award certification in December. Scholarships made available through the Hillcrest Foundation assisted Hillcrest in achieving this honor.
