CHARLESTON, WV - Jane Marks of Charleston recently completed training in Greenville, S.C., and was awarded certification as a certified dementia practitioner by the National Council of Certified Dementia Practitioners.

Marks previously served as executive director of the Alzheimer's Association West Virginia Chapter for 12 years before retiring last June.

She continues to work in the field of dementia care and caregiver support. She manages a website for caregivers, sandwichcaring.com, as well as providing professional training and performing public speaking on a variety of topics, concerning dementia and caregiver challenges.

In July, she will present an academic poster at the Alzheimer's Association International Conference in Copenhagen, Denmark.
