Innsbrook: Bring on the Green!

I love the month of March -- the promise of Spring, St. Patty's Day and one more month until Innsbrook After Hours kicks off. This month's issue of Innsbrook Today Magazine not only celebrates "green" with our new Park Operations column and Tips for your own lawn care by Innsbrook's own Brickman Landscapers, we're also going Green for St. Patty's Day and shaving our heads for a good cause.

More than Springtime, St. Patty's Day (and St. Baldrick's Day, in particular) and all the exciting, upcoming events in Innsbrook in March (see our complete Calendar), this month, Innsbrook Today honors Paul Kreckman.

Pictured on this month's cover, Paul was presented the 17th Annual Innsbrook Rotary Club's Business Leader of the Year Award late last month. Read all about his story which is also the story of Innsbrook.

Click here for I-BUZZ and read why the Hampton Inn-Richmond West, in Innsbrook, has received the prestigious Connie Award again this year. With the advent of Spring, so too comes fishing season. Find out how you can enjoy one of Innsbrook's three lakes with your rod and reel this season.

INNSIDE INNSBROOK is jam-packed with fun and fund-worthy stuff happening this month in the Park. You won't believe who's shaving their head on St. Baldrick's Day in Innsbrook on March 12. Visit our new website: www.innsbrook.com to sign up or donate for this great cause that raises money for children battling cancer.

Innsbrook brought sexy back last month with Girls' Night Out and we've got pictures. Click here. Innsbrook's Biggest Loser competition is past the half-way mark; check out who's in the lead in this month's Innsbrook Happenings. Also, see photos from one luxurious Hondo's luncheon.
